The US Department of Energy (DOE) Office of Weatherization and Intergovernmental Program is pleased to announce its sponsorship of the 2017 HPC National Home Performance Conference and Trade Show – the home performance industry’s leading educational event.

DOE is sponsoring this event in lieu of hosting a National Weatherization Training Conference. The national conference, featuring the nation's top experts in home performance and weatherization will take place March 19-22, 2017, in Nashville, TN. The conference combines education components with the ideal networking environment for all sectors of the residential and multifamily energy efficiency industry, advancing the professionalism and impact of DOE Weatherization Assistance Program (WAP).

Together with HPC, DOE aims to bring Weatherization providers, energy professionals, and private partners together to share knowledge and best practices related to whole-house weatherization, building technology, energy auditing and diagnostics, health and safety, and management and policy issues.

DOE WAP Grantees are encouraged to attend this conference. Attendance at this event is considered an allowable use of training and technical assistance (T&TA) funds by WAP network organizations. To find out more information about the conference, please visit the event website <http://www.homeperformance.org/conferences/2017-hpc-national-home-performance-conference-trade-show>.
