SUBJECT: State Establishment of Organizational Standards for CSBG Eligible
Entities under 678B of the CSBG Act, 42 U.S.C. § 9914

State Authority and Responsibility to Establish Organizational Standards

- Section 678B of the CSBG Act (42 U.S.C. § 9914) requires State CSBG Lead Agencies to establish “performance goals, administrative standards, financial management requirements, and other requirements” that ensure an appropriate level of accountability and quality among the State’s eligible entities
- In order for States to meet these responsibilities under the CSBG Act, States must establish, communicate, and hold accountable to clear and comprehensive standards as part of oversight duties.

IM 138

Federal Authority and Responsibility for Organizational Standards

- The statute provides the authority to collect “such information as the Secretary shall require,” including a series of detailed assurances based on the requirements of the CSBG Act. To assure effective use of funds to meet the purposes of the statute, section 676(d) (42 U.S.C. § 9908(d)) states that the “Secretary may prescribe procedures for the purpose of assessing effectiveness of the eligible entities in carrying out the purpose of [the CSBG Act].

M 138-Assessment

- States are responsible for ensuring that the eligible entities meet all State-established organizational standards. Some standards (i.e., strategic planning, developing an agency-wide budget, etc.) may take several years for eligible entities to meet, but every entity must make steady progress toward the goal of meeting all standards.

During the assessment process...

- If a State finds an eligible entity is not meeting a standard or set of standards, the State's response will depend on the circumstances.
 - In cases where the eligible entity may be able to meet the standard in a reasonable time frame contingent on some targeted technical assistance, the State and entity may develop a technical assistance plan to target training and technical assistance resources and outline a time frame for the entity to meet the standard(s). If appropriate in other situations, the State may initiate action...including the establishment of a Quality Improvement Plan (QIP) with clear timelines and benchmarks for progress.
- As long as the State is confident that the eligible entity is moving toward meeting standards, under a technical assistance plan, QIP, or other oversight mechanism, the State should not initiate action to terminate or reduce funding.

Standard 4.4 The governing board receives an annual update on the success of specific strategies included in the Community Action plan.

Guidance

- The CSBG Act requires that boards be involved with assessment, planning, implementation, and evaluation of the programs: this standard supports meeting that requirement.
- This standard is met by an update being provided at a regular board meeting, and documented in the minutes.
- The update provided to the board may be written or verbal.
- The update provided to the board should include specific strategies outlined in the Community Action plan and any progress made over the course of the last year, or by another period of time as determined by the board that is less than one year.

State Assessment of Organization:

- ☐ Met-The CEE has met the requirements of the Standard as written.
- ☐ Not Met –The CEE has not met the requirements.

Documentation used: (Check all that apply)

- ☐ Community Action Plan update/report
- ☐ Board minutes
- ☐ Board pre-meeting materials/packet

CSBG Organizational Standards-Self Assessment

Sample Documentation Packet

The Documentation Packet is compiled by local CAAs as they collect information annually to demonstrate they meet the CSBG Organizational Standards. For many CAAs, the assessment of Organizational Standards will occur as part of regular monitoring by the State CSBG Lead Agency and occur on site annually. For others, the State CSBG lead Agency conducts on site monitoring less frequently, biannually or triennially. A challenge for States and CAAs that do not conduct annual monitoring is the requirement for CAAs to demonstrate they meet the Standards annually and for the State CSBG Office to annually report the number of CAAs meeting Standards.

To meet this challenge, CAAs and State CSBG Lead Agencies will develop a process that meets the needs in that State. Tools and resources are available from the Organizational Standards Center of Excellence (OSCOE) to assist CAAs and States to meet this challenge in ways that are not overly burdensome. This tool focuses on capturing and filing the documentation necessary to demonstrate how a CAA meets each Standard. This tool and others can be found at www.communityactionpartnership.com.

CAAs will need to demonstrate they meet all Standards annually. Many individual Standards require action on an annual basis, while others do so on a biannual, triennial, or even five year span. There will be materials local CAAs will need to collect that may not change over a five year period (e.g. bylaws, strategic plan). In addition, there will be documents that will need to be collected that may be created monthly (e.g. board minutes). There are certain documents that will be used to demonstrate the CAA meets multiple Standards. This tool is provided to be a guide to help CAAs and State CSBG Lead Agencies think about how to collect, store, and report needed materials over time, limiting duplication of effort. It frames the collection of materials under the title of "Documentation Packet".

A CAA's Documentation Packet may be:

- Hard copy or electronic (or a blend). Some CAAs may prefer to have a binder, file folder, banker's box, or other hard copy system for collecting and storing the documents. Others may prefer electronic documents. In some cases, CAAs may use a mix of both options.
- Stored at the CAA, State CSBG Lead Agency, in the "cloud", on in some other document sharing environment; Depending on the system established, the Documentation Packet may be stored at the CAA for access during onsite monitoring, at the State Office for desk audits, or in an online file sharing/storage system accessible to both and even perhaps third parties.
- Formally updated periodically or as part of the annual assessment process. Some CAAs may choose to update the Documentation Packet monthly as new materials are developed or may choose to select a single time each year they update the packet.
- Spread across multiple years. Some documents may be submitted in the initial Documentation Packet and may not need to be updated for two to four years. CAAs and

Community Action Agency Boards of Directors and the CSBG Organizational Standards

The Boards of Directors plays a unique and important role in the life of a Community Action Agency. While staff members transition, founding directors retire, and programs change, the board offers consistency in purpose, intent, and responsibility. The governing board acts as a body, not as individuals, and its members are bound by the Duties of Care, Loyalty, and Obedience, bearing legal liability for their individual actions as well as those of the corporation.

Standard 5.2 The organization's governing board has written procedures that document a democratic selection process for low-income board members adequate to assure that they are representative of the low-income community.

A. Guidance on the Definition and Intent of the Standard

The CSBG Act states that CAA boards must have the tripartite structure noted above, including at least one-third of its membership being democratically selected representatives of the low-income community. Standard 5.2 states that CAAs need to have written procedures for how this is done in their local organization. It is important to note that the Act states democratically selected, not elected. Once a potential board member is selected, that individual will still need to be elected and seated to the board following the CAA's bylaws and board policies.

According to IM 82 "the implicit intent of this requirement is to insure that those who currently live in areas served by the agency are represented so that they have a strong voice in agency governance and direction and are able to convey to those they represent the presence and significance of community action in their lives." All CAA board members have an equal voice and vote in agency governance.

IM 82 continues, "Every effort should be made by eligible entities to assure that board members representing low-income individuals and families:

- Have been selected on the basis of some form of democratic procedure either directly through election, public forum, or, if not possible, through a similar democratic process such as election to a position of responsibility in another significant service or community organization such as a school PTA, a faith-based organization leadership group; or an advisory board/governing council to another low-income service provider;
- Are truly representative of current residents of the geographic area to be served, including racial and ethnic composition, as determined by periodic selection or reselection by the community. Being current should be based on the recent or annual demographics changes as documented in the needs/ community assessment. This does not preclude extended service of low-income community representatives on boards, but does suggest that continued board

B. Guidance on Compliance and Documentation

Documentation may include the written policy itself, board policy or procedure manual, bylaws, minutes, etc.

CAAs are encouraged to keep this process straightforward and not to incorporate something too complex. Examples of democratic selection procedures for low-income sector directors include:

C. Beyond Compliance: Benchmarking Organizational Performance

Having true representation from the low-income community is an important element of a CAA governance structure. Working to ensure that all board committees (beyond committees that have decision making authority which are already required to maintain the structure) have a tripartite structure can help a CAA move beyond compliance toward excellence. In addition, incorporating advisory committees that engage low-income residents can also bring additional voice to the table.

D. Resources

As with the first standard in this category, this requirement is not new. Such procedures may be written in the agency's bylaws (and under some states' CSBG laws or regulations, may be required to insert it into the CAA's bylaws), procedure manuals, or other document to meet this Standards.

Form Documenting Standard 4.3

Standard 4.3: The organization's Community Action plan and strategic plan document the continuous use of the full Results Oriented Management and Accountability (ROMA) cycle or comparable system (assessment, planning, implementation, achievement of results, and evaluation). In addition, the organization documents having used the services of a ROMA-certified trainer (or equivalent) to assist in implementation.

This Standard is intended to demonstrate the Eligible Entity's use of all of the phases of the ROMA Cycle in its work. The documentation for this integration can be found in its Community Assessment, Strategic Plan, and agency reports (to external entities and to its board). It is not intended to be a complex or burdensome description of use, but an affirmation that the agency engaged in thoughtful assessment of needs, planning to meet those needs, implementation of programs and services designed to meet those needs, collection of data, and an analysis of this data.

Please provide a brief narrative describing your agency's use of each step of the ROMA Cycle using elements of your Community Assessment and/or Strategic Plan to do so.

A Nationally Certified ROMA Trainer (NCRT) is to be accessed by each Eligible Entity during the course of the ROMA Cycle. This can be done through a conference call, in person consultation or training, etc. at some point during the cycle. Again, the documentation of this interaction is not meant to be burdensome, but a brief narrative describing the type of interaction with the Certified ROMA Trainer.

CHECKLIST FOR MONITORING COMMUNITY NEEDS ASSESSMENTS FOR STATE CSBG OFFICES

N A S C S P

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR STATE COMMUNITY SERVICES PROGRAMS

Structure of Community Assessment Checklist

This checklist suggests an approach that state monitors can use to support the assessment of a CEE's report to determine if the CEE met each of the standards related to the community assessment. Three sections are contained within the checklist. The first section includes the standards in the Community Assessment category. The second section includes standards that are associated with community assessment, but are located in other standard categories such as Strategic Planning, Customer Input and Involvement and Community Engagement. The third section highlights other elements of a comprehensive report that are not included in the standards, but will be helpful to monitors as they review assessment reports.

The checklist will help monitors answer the following questions:

- ❖ What should I be looking for when I read a Community Needs Assessment (CNA) report?
- ❖ What elements should the CNA report contain?
- ❖ How do I know if this is a "comprehensive and complete" CNA report?
- ❖ How can I assist the CEE in doing a more comprehensive CNA report?

The checklist is organized as follows:

- ❖ Each standard associated with conducting a community assessment is listed.
- ❖ Following each standard is a description of what needs to be done or included in the report to meet the standard.
- ❖ Check boxes ☐ are provided for monitors to check if the standard is met.
- ❖ Additional information (the "whys") of the process is included.

☐ B. Qualitative Data is contained in the report.

Qualitative data (often referred to as descriptive or narrative data), is used in assessment reports to augment the numerical data. These opinions and observations offer a rich picture and help provide insight into the depth and breadth of an issue. The information can be gathered in a variety of ways. While not all methods need to be employed in the assessment process, it's important for monitors to note that more than one of the following methods are evidenced in the assessment report. For example, conducting a survey offers valuable information however, responses to a survey is unlikely to reveal the depth of an issue. Qualitative data must be presented and reported using the actual words of the respondents. (i.e., "the cost to rent an apartment in my community is too high and it makes renting a safe apartment difficult.") Otherwise, summarized qualitative data is quantitative (i.e., "x number of people said that rents for apartments are too high.")

☐ i. Surveys

If surveys are utilized, each survey should be individualized to the specific target group. It's important for monitors to note that a survey intended for low-income customers should be wide-spread and extend to individuals beyond those who utilize the services of the CEE. If the monitor sees that surveys are done only with customers in the CEEs programs s/he may find that the survey coincides with current CEE programs and services but does not provide a true assessment of the customers' complete needs. Conducting surveys that include other individuals with low incomes (participants of partner

Open Communication

Effective communication is key in facilitating good working relationships with partners, and State CSBG offices are committed to keeping lines of communication open. The purpose of communication is to assist in developing solutions to problems, to share program improvement ideas, and provide information on new developments in the anti-poverty field. State CSBG offices communicate frequently through a variety of tools and media. CSBG offices are open to contact and are committed to listening to suggestions/concerns. This aids in the CSBG office in gaining an understanding of local operations and assisting CAAs in pursuing priorities.

Joint Problem Solving

State CSBG offices operate under the basic belief that a team approach to problem solving is in the best interest of all parties involved. State CSBG offices sincerely believe that collectively the office and the CAA can arrive at the best solution to any situation. Through a team approach to problem solving, CSBG offices think outside the traditional ways and come up with the best strategies for program development, conflict resolution, or compliance issues.

Monitoring Practices

The states need to assess the health of the entire agency, not just program-by-program compliance. Such assessments include general oversight, desk reviews, and on-site reviews of the following: Community Action Plan and/or contract, needs assessments, service delivery systems, administration and management systems, board and governance systems, and financial systems.

Practice 1 - State monitors look at more than compliance with program rules and regulations.

In assessing the health of an agency, state monitors cannot look solely at compliance with particular program standards. Individual CAAs may have expertise in particular programs or services and may excel in any 'snapshot' view of the CAA. However, the same agency may be having difficulty in operating other programs, or may be delivering sub-standard services throughout the rest of the organization. State monitors need to take a systems view of each CAA

A SELF-ASSESSMENT TOOL FOR STATE CSBG OFFICES

INTRODUCTION: This assessment tool is designed to help State CSBG Offices assess themselves in the area of Regulatory Compliance, Program and Grant Management, Internal Controls, and much more. This tool will allow States to take an in-depth look at their internal policies and procedures and identify areas of strength and areas for improvement.

It consists of two assessment tools. Part 1 is a checklist covering regulations and management of a state office. Part 2 takes a somewhat broader viewpoint and is intended to provide the user with an assessment of his/her office's capacity to implement a high quality Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) Program. Part 2 also includes resources, policies and practices that have proven to contribute to the implementation of a sound, performance-oriented program.

SELF-ASSESSMENT TOOL FOR STATE CSBG MANAGERS: PART 2

INTRODUCTION: The Community Services Block Grant with its fixed network of Community Action Agencies and program decisions vested in local boards poses some unique challenges for the state level management. Part 2 of this self-assessment focuses on resources and practices that can assist the CSBG offices in addressing those challenges in a way that goes beyond compliance with federal regulatory requirements. The objective here is to provide suggestions that will assist the user in achieving not just compliance with regulations, but excellence.

Six key areas are covered: Staff Resources, State Level Advisory Committee, Leadership Resources, Communication Tools and Resources, Information Technology Resources and Creating a Culture of Accountability and Performance. A list of recommended readings is also provided.

This self-assessment is not designed to provide a rating or score but rather to serve as a means of identifying those key management resources that may be strong, need improvement or missing. In the space provided after each category enter "S" if this is an area of strength, enter "I" if this resource is present but improvement is needed, and enter "M" if this resource is unavailable or not used. Upon completion those areas designated "M" should be your first priority for corrective action followed by those areas designated "I".

Tripartite Board Composition and Selection

CAPLAW

Introduction

This self-training tool offers nonprofit Community Action Agency (CAA) boards a way to educate themselves on specific Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) governance requirements. Because of the differences between nonprofit and public CAAs, a separate tool is being created for public CAA boards. This tool is focused on the CSBG requirements relating to tripartite board composition and selection and is divided into the following four parts:

1. General tripartite board composition and selection information
2. Public official sector
3. Low-income representative sector
4. Private sector

The board chair is encouraged to designate a board member to facilitate each of the four parts as a training segment at a board meeting. Each part has multiple sections which may be conducted by board members in approximately 20 minutes or less.

Each part offers specific directions for the facilitator regarding his or her role in guiding the full board through the different sections of the training tool. It is not necessary for the facilitator to possess specific knowledge about the part he or she facilitates. Rather, the self-training tool is intended to educate the facilitator and other board members as they work through the different parts of the tool together. Any preparation required of the board member facilitator is detailed in each part.

Each part includes handouts – some of which will be provided and others which the facilitator is instructed to work with board members to obtain. Generally, the handouts for the four parts will mostly consist of the following

Materials Needed

- Exercises and questions relevant to a specific part
- Federal CSBG Act section setting forth tripartite board composition and selection requirements, 42 U.S.C. § 9910
- State CSBG statutes/regulations, if any exist, and excerpt from the CSBG grant agreement with the state setting forth tripartite board composition and selection requirements. (Note that a statute is a law passed by a legislative body, while a regulation is a legal requirement issued by an executive branch agency.)
- Excerpt from the CAA articles of incorporation (and/or articles of amendment) addressing board composition and selection, if such provisions exist
- Full CAA bylaws with section(s) addressing board composition and selection highlighted for easy reference
- U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Office of Community Services (OCS) Information Memorandum (IM) 82
