Tour of Chicago's Community Service Centers

Get an inside look at how Chicago is streamlining support for its residents through a guided tour of the city's Community Service Centers that serve as dynamic, one-stop hubs offering case management and wraparound services for individuals and families in need. From housing assistance to food security, employment services to crisis intervention, these centers reflect a coordinated, community-centered approach to meeting people where they are. Participants will explore how this model brings multiple resources under one roof, fosters collaboration across agencies, and creates more efficient, person-focused pathways out of poverty. Come ready to ask questions, share ideas, and get inspired by what's possible when services truly connect.
